No Salary Raise Urged

"In no case has a salary increase sen recommended," says the report, for a position logical to be included a the standardization work, except hat a few increases have been recommended for those in the clerical group easiving less than $200 annually." In preparing the first balanced budst in the state's history the Board of alimate and Control confined itself to quirements for current operating exuirements for current operating ex-ses of the state and fixed charges, did not pass on or consider re-sts for construction or other capuests for construction or other cap-nal outlay purposes. Appropriations or the latter are always matters of egislative policy and the board did to desire to anticipate the action of he Legislature. The budget shows hat after reserving $25,000,000 of the ash estimated to be in the treasury y July 1, 1923, for such purposes as ompleting the New York-New Jersey chicular Tunnel, and other construc-on projects, $28,000,000 is available or new capital outlay ventures. This apuld be a valuable guide in the forfor new capital outlay ventures. This hould be a valuable guide in the formation of a financial policy.

Personal Service Operation

Appropriations recommended for operating expenses, which include personal service, operation and maintenance, fixed charges, contributions and state debt requirements, aggregate $110,000,000, an increase ever the appropriations of 1922 of $3,800,000. Increases by groups really amount to $5,460,000, the increase for education alone being nearly $500,000 more than the net increase for all departments, but decreases for all departments.

Taxes Cut $27,000,006

That the state is in an envisible finantial position is indicated by this budget A surplus, estimated as of July 1, 1922, of mearly $38,000,000 is shown, and the estimated revenues are over $120,000, 000, resources in excess of $162,000, 000 for the financial requirements of the next fiscal year. This condition is especially notable in view of the fact that during the last two fiscal years the during the last two fiscal years the first and indirect taxes have been $27,000,000 less each year than similar taxes collected two years ago.

The beard made no recommendations for any general salary changes of new positions. The reason given was that no such changes should be allowed until the employment or "job analysis study now being made is completed, at which time salaries will be standardized and fair and proper salaries for all positions determined.

In the state hospitals and prisons, however, positions and salaries have been standardized, and under special conditions amounting practically to an emergency increases have been recommended and provided for in fact, the increases in salaries for hospital employees constitute one of the largest items in this increase of the hospital budget over the appropriations of last year.

Why HATHAWAY'S has become one of New York's Greatest Stores

Nearing completion at 51 West 45th Street

EN years ago Hathaway Furniture was hardly more than a name and an ideal. Today, not only is the name familiar but its significance is widely understood. Nor are the friends of Hathaway Furniture confined to our own New York public; they are numbered by thousands throughout the Country.

These ten years have included both war and peace; the well-ordered times before the war; the abnormal war-period with all its stress, strain and uncertainty for business houses as well as individuals and nations; and the equally abnormal years of readjustment. Periods of extreme prosperity have been followed by corresponding extremes of depression, a kaleidoscope of rapidly changing economic conditions.

A Record Remarkable for Its Consistency

Covering a period of such uncertainty and difficulty, the growth of Hathaway's from modest beginnings to its present place among New York's commercial institutions, has been the more remarkable. Instances of sudden business success have been common enough of late, but instances of sound, steady, consistent growth, unaffected by troubled conditions, have been rare indeed.

Consider what it means, under such circumstances, to be able to make this statement:

The steady forward progress of the W. A. Hathaway Company during the past ten years has been unbroken. Each year has shown a distinct advance over the year before. Practically every month has surpassed the corresponding month of the previous year.

Perhaps the entire astonishing record can best be summed up by a single significant comparison:

In a single month in 1922, more Hathaway Furniture was bought by our patrons than in any entire year before the great war.

All this can have only one meaning-that the Hathaway ideal of Good Furniture, unwavering adherence to approved styles, sound values and fair prices, has earned the unqualified endorsement of those who know and appreciate Furniture excellence. It is an appropriate time to express to them our sincere gratitude for their consistent and ever-increasing patron-

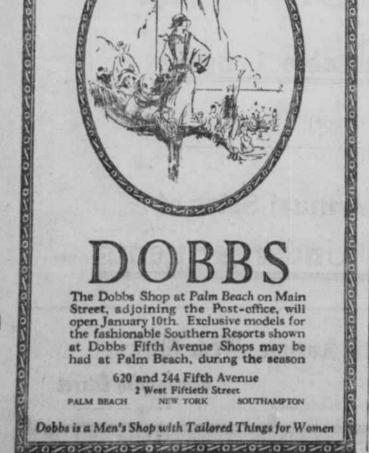

Now the Consummation: A New Home for Hathaway Furniture

Early in 1923, probably by March 1st, the W. A. Hathaway Company will occupy their own building, now nearing completion, at 51 West 45th Street. More than twice as much space as at present will then be available for Hathaway Furniture.

But the importance of this step cannot be indicated in terms of space alone. In arrangement and appointments, as well as in the Furniture they contain, the new showrooms will be the realization of the hopes and ambitions of many years. They are to represent the utmost that a Furniture Store can be, the fulfillment of the Hathaway ideal of service to our patrons in enabling them to select Good Furniture at favorable prices, in comfor able and agreeable surround-

There will be a later, definite announcement of the opening of the new Hathaway Building. On behalf of the Greater Hathaway's of the future, we bespeak a continuation of the cordial patronage which has made it possible. We can ask no more.
